Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.1 Paid Time Off Accrual: Charlotte Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Full-time employees assigned to the Charlotte office accrue 6.50 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Novak, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-01, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.2 Paid Time Off Accrual: Atlanta Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Full-time employees assigned to the Atlanta office accrue 5.00 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Chandra, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.3 Paid Time Off Accrual: Denver Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Full-time employees assigned to the Denver office accrue 5.50 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ivy Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-01-03, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.4 Paid Time Off Accrual: Austin Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Full-time employees assigned to the Austin office accrue 8.00 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Chandra, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-01-04, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.5 Paid Time Off Accrual: Columbus Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Full-time employees assigned to the Columbus office accrue 4.00 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Sato, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-05, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.6 Paid Time Off Accrual: Phoenix Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Full-time employees assigned to the Phoenix office accrue 4.25 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Novak, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-01-06, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.7 Paid Time Off Accrual: Raleigh Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Full-time employees assigned to the Raleigh office accrue 6.00 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Novak, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-07, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.8 Paid Time Off Accrual: Nashville Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Full-time employees assigned to the Nashville office accrue 6.75 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Varga, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-01-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.9 Paid Time Off Accrual: Tampa Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Full-time employees assigned to the Tampa office accrue 5.25 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-09, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 1.10 Paid Time Off Accrual: Richmond Office

Paid time off (PTO) combines vacation, personal, and short-term sick time into one balance. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Full-time employees assigned to the Richmond office accrue 7.00 hours of PTO each pay period. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Harlow, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-01-10, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.1 Business Travel Lodging: Charlotte Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. For employees based in the Charlotte office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $209 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-02-01, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.2 Business Travel Lodging: Atlanta Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. For employees based in the Atlanta office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $167 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Delgado, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-02-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.3 Business Travel Lodging: Denver Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. For employees based in the Denver office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $244 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Varga, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-02-03, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.4 Business Travel Lodging: Austin Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. For employees based in the Austin office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $181 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Varga, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-02-04, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.5 Business Travel Lodging: Columbus Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. For employees based in the Columbus office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $139 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Novak, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-02-05, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.6 Business Travel Lodging: Phoenix Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. For employees based in the Phoenix office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $258 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Castillo, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-02-06, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.7 Business Travel Lodging: Raleigh Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. For employees based in the Raleigh office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $146 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Delgado, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-02-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.8 Business Travel Lodging: Nashville Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. For employees based in the Nashville office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $195 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-02-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.9 Business Travel Lodging: Tampa Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. For employees based in the Tampa office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $202 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Chandra, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-02-09, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 2.10 Business Travel Lodging: Richmond Office

Employees traveling on company business should book lodging through the corporate travel portal. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. For employees based in the Richmond office, the nightly hotel rate cap is $174 before taxes. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Harlow, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-02-10, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.1 Meal Per Diem: Charlotte Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The daily meal per diem for Charlotte office staff is $78. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-03-01, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.2 Meal Per Diem: Atlanta Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The daily meal per diem for Atlanta office staff is $54. Questions about this provision should be directed to Elena Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-03-02, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.3 Meal Per Diem: Denver Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The daily meal per diem for Denver office staff is $81. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Okafor, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-03-03, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.4 Meal Per Diem: Austin Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The daily meal per diem for Austin office staff is $72. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Brennan, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-03-04, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.5 Meal Per Diem: Columbus Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The daily meal per diem for Columbus office staff is $75. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-03-05, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.6 Meal Per Diem: Phoenix Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The daily meal per diem for Phoenix office staff is $93. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Varga, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-03-06, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.7 Meal Per Diem: Raleigh Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The daily meal per diem for Raleigh office staff is $48. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-03-07, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.8 Meal Per Diem: Nashville Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The daily meal per diem for Nashville office staff is $69. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Brennan, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-03-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.9 Meal Per Diem: Tampa Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The daily meal per diem for Tampa office staff is $66. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Brennan, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-03-09, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 3.10 Meal Per Diem: Richmond Office

Meal allowances cover breakfast, lunch, and dinner on travel days and are paid as a flat per diem. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The daily meal per diem for Richmond office staff is $57. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-03-10, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.1 Remote and Hybrid Work: Charlotte Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Eligible employees in the Charlotte office may work remotely up to four days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Brennan, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-04-01, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.2 Remote and Hybrid Work: Atlanta Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Eligible employees in the Atlanta office may work remotely up to four and a half days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-04-02, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.3 Remote and Hybrid Work: Denver Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Eligible employees in the Denver office may work remotely up to five days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Chandra, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-04-03, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.4 Remote and Hybrid Work: Austin Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Eligible employees in the Austin office may work remotely up to three and a half days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Novak, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-04-04, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.5 Remote and Hybrid Work: Columbus Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Eligible employees in the Columbus office may work remotely up to zero days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-04-05, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.6 Remote and Hybrid Work: Phoenix Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Eligible employees in the Phoenix office may work remotely up to two days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Price, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-04-06, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.7 Remote and Hybrid Work: Raleigh Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Eligible employees in the Raleigh office may work remotely up to one and a half days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-04-07, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.8 Remote and Hybrid Work: Nashville Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Eligible employees in the Nashville office may work remotely up to three days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Varga, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-04-08, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.9 Remote and Hybrid Work: Tampa Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Eligible employees in the Tampa office may work remotely up to two and a half days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Sato, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-04-09, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 4.10 Remote and Hybrid Work: Richmond Office

The hybrid work program lets eligible roles split time between home and the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Eligible employees in the Richmond office may work remotely up to one days per week. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Novak, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-04-10, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.1 Parental Leave: Charlotte Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Employees in the Charlotte office receive 10 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-05-01, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.2 Parental Leave: Atlanta Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Employees in the Atlanta office receive 14 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Sato, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-05-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.3 Parental Leave: Denver Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Employees in the Denver office receive 9 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-05-03, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.4 Parental Leave: Austin Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Employees in the Austin office receive 15 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Castillo, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-05-04, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.5 Parental Leave: Columbus Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Employees in the Columbus office receive 11 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Elena Delgado, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-05-05, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.6 Parental Leave: Phoenix Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Employees in the Phoenix office receive 20 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Varga, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-05-06, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.7 Parental Leave: Raleigh Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Employees in the Raleigh office receive 19 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Castillo, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-05-07, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.8 Parental Leave: Nashville Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Employees in the Nashville office receive 12 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Sato, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-05-08, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.9 Parental Leave: Tampa Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Employees in the Tampa office receive 13 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-05-09, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 5.10 Parental Leave: Richmond Office

Parental leave is available to all parents following the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Employees in the Richmond office receive 7 weeks of fully paid parental leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-05-10, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.1 Tuition Assistance: Charlotte Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Charlotte employees is $6,500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-06-01, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.2 Tuition Assistance: Atlanta Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Atlanta employees is $9,500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Novak, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-06-02, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.3 Tuition Assistance: Denver Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Denver employees is $3,500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Kim, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-06-03, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.4 Tuition Assistance: Austin Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Austin employees is $6,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Harlow, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-06-04, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.5 Tuition Assistance: Columbus Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Columbus employees is $4,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Delgado, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-06-05, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.6 Tuition Assistance: Phoenix Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Phoenix employees is $3,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Price, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-06-06, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.7 Tuition Assistance: Raleigh Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Raleigh employees is $5,500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-06-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.8 Tuition Assistance: Nashville Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Nashville employees is $8,500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Delgado, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-06-08, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.9 Tuition Assistance: Tampa Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Tampa employees is $9,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Chandra, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-06-09, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 6.10 Tuition Assistance: Richmond Office

Tuition assistance supports job-related degrees, certificates, and professional courses. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The annual tuition reimbursement limit for Richmond employees is $5,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Kim, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-06-10, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.1 Building Access Hours: Charlotte Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The Charlotte office building opens for badge access at 7:30 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Novak, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-07-01, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.2 Building Access Hours: Atlanta Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The Atlanta office building opens for badge access at 6:15 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Brennan, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-07-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.3 Building Access Hours: Denver Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The Denver office building opens for badge access at 5:45 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Novak, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-07-03, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.4 Building Access Hours: Austin Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The Austin office building opens for badge access at 6:00 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Castillo, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-07-04, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.5 Building Access Hours: Columbus Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The Columbus office building opens for badge access at 7:15 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Kim, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-07-05, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.6 Building Access Hours: Phoenix Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The Phoenix office building opens for badge access at 5:30 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Okafor, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-07-06, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.7 Building Access Hours: Raleigh Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The Raleigh office building opens for badge access at 8:00 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-07-07, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.8 Building Access Hours: Nashville Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The Nashville office building opens for badge access at 6:30 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Chandra, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-07-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.9 Building Access Hours: Tampa Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The Tampa office building opens for badge access at 7:45 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Delgado, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-07-09, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 7.10 Building Access Hours: Richmond Office

Badge access to company buildings is limited to posted hours outside of approved exceptions. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The Richmond office building opens for badge access at 7:00 AM on weekdays. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Kim, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-07-10, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.1 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Charlotte Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Charlotte office is $205. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Brennan, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-08-01, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.2 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Atlanta Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Atlanta office is $115. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Okafor, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-08-02, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.3 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Denver Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Denver office is $40. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-08-03, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.4 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Austin Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Austin office is $280. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Sato, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-08-04, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.5 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Columbus Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Columbus office is $130. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Price, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-08-05, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.6 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Phoenix Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Phoenix office is $55. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Brennan, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-08-06, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.7 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Raleigh Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Raleigh office is $145. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Varga, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-08-07, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.8 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Nashville Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Nashville office is $100. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Delgado, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-08-08, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.9 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Tampa Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Tampa office is $160. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-08-09, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 8.10 Commuter and Parking Benefit: Richmond Office

The commuter benefit offsets parking and transit costs for employees who come into the office. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The monthly parking and transit subsidy for the Richmond office is $85. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Novak, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-08-10, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.1 Wellness Stipend: Charlotte Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Charlotte office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $800. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Harlow, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-09-01, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.2 Wellness Stipend: Atlanta Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Atlanta office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $300. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Delgado, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-09-02, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.3 Wellness Stipend: Denver Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Denver office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $950. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Harlow, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-09-03, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.4 Wellness Stipend: Austin Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Austin office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $650. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Novak, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-09-04, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.5 Wellness Stipend: Columbus Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Columbus office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $250. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Varga, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-09-05, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.6 Wellness Stipend: Phoenix Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Phoenix office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $500. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Novak, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-09-06, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.7 Wellness Stipend: Raleigh Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Raleigh office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $1,000. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Delgado, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-09-07, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.8 Wellness Stipend: Nashville Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Nashville office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $1,050. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Chandra, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-09-08, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.9 Wellness Stipend: Tampa Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Tampa office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $1,150. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Brennan, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-09-09, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 9.10 Wellness Stipend: Richmond Office

The wellness stipend can be used for gym memberships, fitness classes, and approved wellness apps. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Richmond office employees receive an annual wellness stipend of $450. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Sato, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-09-10, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.1 Overtime Pre-Approval: Charlotte Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. In the Charlotte office, overtime beyond 5 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Harlow, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-10-01, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.2 Overtime Pre-Approval: Atlanta Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. In the Atlanta office, overtime beyond 9 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-10-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.3 Overtime Pre-Approval: Denver Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. In the Denver office, overtime beyond 4 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-10-03, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.4 Overtime Pre-Approval: Austin Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. In the Austin office, overtime beyond 14 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Delgado, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-10-04, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.5 Overtime Pre-Approval: Columbus Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. In the Columbus office, overtime beyond 12 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Price, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-10-05, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.6 Overtime Pre-Approval: Phoenix Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. In the Phoenix office, overtime beyond 10 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Okafor, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-10-06, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.7 Overtime Pre-Approval: Raleigh Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. In the Raleigh office, overtime beyond 7 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Okafor, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-10-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.8 Overtime Pre-Approval: Nashville Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. In the Nashville office, overtime beyond 13 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Harlow, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-10-08, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.9 Overtime Pre-Approval: Tampa Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. In the Tampa office, overtime beyond 15 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Harlow, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-10-09, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 10.10 Overtime Pre-Approval: Richmond Office

Non-exempt employees must obtain manager approval before working overtime. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. In the Richmond office, overtime beyond 6 hours in a week requires director approval. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-10-10, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.1 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Charlotte Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Laptops issued to Charlotte office employees are refreshed every 48 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-11-01, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.2 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Atlanta Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Laptops issued to Atlanta office employees are refreshed every 36 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ivy Novak, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-11-02, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.3 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Denver Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Laptops issued to Denver office employees are refreshed every 60 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Novak, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-11-03, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.4 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Austin Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Laptops issued to Austin office employees are refreshed every 30 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Delgado, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-11-04, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.5 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Columbus Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Laptops issued to Columbus office employees are refreshed every 24 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Chandra, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-11-05, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.6 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Phoenix Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Laptops issued to Phoenix office employees are refreshed every 33 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Brennan, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-11-06, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.7 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Raleigh Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Laptops issued to Raleigh office employees are refreshed every 54 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ivy Castillo, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-11-07, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.8 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Nashville Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Laptops issued to Nashville office employees are refreshed every 18 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Chandra, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-11-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.9 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Tampa Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Laptops issued to Tampa office employees are refreshed every 27 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-11-09, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 11.10 Laptop Refresh Cycle: Richmond Office

Company laptops are replaced on a fixed cycle to keep hardware secure and supported. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Laptops issued to Richmond office employees are refreshed every 42 months. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Chandra, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-11-10, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.1 Expense Report Deadlines: Charlotte Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Charlotte office employees must submit expense reports within 60 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Delgado, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-12-01, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.2 Expense Report Deadlines: Atlanta Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Atlanta office employees must submit expense reports within 30 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Harlow, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-12-02, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.3 Expense Report Deadlines: Denver Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Denver office employees must submit expense reports within 50 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Chandra, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-12-03, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.4 Expense Report Deadlines: Austin Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Austin office employees must submit expense reports within 40 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Brennan, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-12-04, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.5 Expense Report Deadlines: Columbus Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Columbus office employees must submit expense reports within 35 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Chandra, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-12-05, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.6 Expense Report Deadlines: Phoenix Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Phoenix office employees must submit expense reports within 10 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Kim, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-12-06, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.7 Expense Report Deadlines: Raleigh Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Raleigh office employees must submit expense reports within 45 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Harlow, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-12-07, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.8 Expense Report Deadlines: Nashville Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Nashville office employees must submit expense reports within 55 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Novak, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-12-08, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.9 Expense Report Deadlines: Tampa Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Tampa office employees must submit expense reports within 15 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-12-09, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 12.10 Expense Report Deadlines: Richmond Office

Expense reports must include itemized receipts and be submitted through the expense system. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Richmond office employees must submit expense reports within 25 days of incurring the expense. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Price, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-12-10, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.1 Mileage Reimbursement: Charlotte Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Charlotte office is 53 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Kim, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-13-01, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.2 Mileage Reimbursement: Atlanta Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Atlanta office is 58 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Elena Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-13-02, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.3 Mileage Reimbursement: Denver Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Denver office is 52 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Kim, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-13-03, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.4 Mileage Reimbursement: Austin Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Austin office is 56 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Delgado, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-13-04, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.5 Mileage Reimbursement: Columbus Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Columbus office is 65 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Novak, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-13-05, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.6 Mileage Reimbursement: Phoenix Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Phoenix office is 69 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Okafor, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-13-06, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.7 Mileage Reimbursement: Raleigh Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Raleigh office is 63 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Elena Kim, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-13-07, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.8 Mileage Reimbursement: Nashville Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Nashville office is 66 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Chandra, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-13-08, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.9 Mileage Reimbursement: Tampa Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Tampa office is 54 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-13-09, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 13.10 Mileage Reimbursement: Richmond Office

Employees who use a personal vehicle for company business are reimbursed per mile driven. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The mileage reimbursement rate for the Richmond office is 70 cents per mile. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Kim, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-13-10, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.1 Bereavement Leave: Charlotte Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Employees in the Charlotte office may take up to 7 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Castillo, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-14-01, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.2 Bereavement Leave: Atlanta Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Employees in the Atlanta office may take up to 8 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Sato, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-14-02, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.3 Bereavement Leave: Denver Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Employees in the Denver office may take up to 14 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Chandra, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-14-03, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.4 Bereavement Leave: Austin Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Employees in the Austin office may take up to 12 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-14-04, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.5 Bereavement Leave: Columbus Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Employees in the Columbus office may take up to 3 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-14-05, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.6 Bereavement Leave: Phoenix Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Employees in the Phoenix office may take up to 13 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-14-06, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.7 Bereavement Leave: Raleigh Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Employees in the Raleigh office may take up to 11 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Price, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-14-07, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.8 Bereavement Leave: Nashville Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Employees in the Nashville office may take up to 10 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Sato, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-14-08, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.9 Bereavement Leave: Tampa Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Employees in the Tampa office may take up to 9 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Harlow, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-14-09, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 14.10 Bereavement Leave: Richmond Office

Bereavement leave allows time away following the death of a family member. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Employees in the Richmond office may take up to 6 days of paid bereavement leave. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Delgado, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-14-10, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.1 Jury Duty: Charlotte Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Charlotte office employees receive full pay for up to 11 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Chandra, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-15-01, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.2 Jury Duty: Atlanta Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Atlanta office employees receive full pay for up to 29 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Brennan, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-15-02, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.3 Jury Duty: Denver Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Denver office employees receive full pay for up to 9 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Harlow, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-15-03, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.4 Jury Duty: Austin Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Austin office employees receive full pay for up to 13 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Novak, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-04, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.5 Jury Duty: Columbus Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Columbus office employees receive full pay for up to 27 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Delgado, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-15-05, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.6 Jury Duty: Phoenix Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Phoenix office employees receive full pay for up to 15 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-06, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.7 Jury Duty: Raleigh Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Raleigh office employees receive full pay for up to 5 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Okafor, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.8 Jury Duty: Nashville Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Nashville office employees receive full pay for up to 21 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Andre Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-08, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.9 Jury Duty: Tampa Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Tampa office employees receive full pay for up to 25 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Castillo, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-09, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 15.10 Jury Duty: Richmond Office

The company supports employees fulfilling civic obligations such as jury service. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Richmond office employees receive full pay for up to 7 days of jury duty per year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Sato, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-15-10, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.1 Company Holidays: Charlotte Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The Charlotte office observes 12 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-16-01, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.2 Company Holidays: Atlanta Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The Atlanta office observes 14 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Maya Price, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-16-02, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.3 Company Holidays: Denver Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The Denver office observes 11.5 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-16-03, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.4 Company Holidays: Austin Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The Austin office observes 9.5 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Sato, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-16-04, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.5 Company Holidays: Columbus Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The Columbus office observes 11 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-16-05, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.6 Company Holidays: Phoenix Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The Phoenix office observes 8 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-16-06, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.7 Company Holidays: Raleigh Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The Raleigh office observes 10 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Castillo, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-16-07, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.8 Company Holidays: Nashville Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The Nashville office observes 15 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-16-08, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.9 Company Holidays: Tampa Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The Tampa office observes 9 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-16-09, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 16.10 Company Holidays: Richmond Office

The holiday calendar is published each December for the following year. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The Richmond office observes 10.5 paid company holidays per calendar year. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-16-10, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.1 Introductory Period: Charlotte Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The introductory period for new hires in the Charlotte office lasts 30 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Harlow, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-17-01, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.2 Introductory Period: Atlanta Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The introductory period for new hires in the Atlanta office lasts 150 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Varga, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-17-02, revision 9.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.3 Introductory Period: Denver Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The introductory period for new hires in the Denver office lasts 180 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Chandra, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-17-03, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.4 Introductory Period: Austin Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The introductory period for new hires in the Austin office lasts 105 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ravi Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-17-04, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.5 Introductory Period: Columbus Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The introductory period for new hires in the Columbus office lasts 165 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-17-05, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.6 Introductory Period: Phoenix Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The introductory period for new hires in the Phoenix office lasts 75 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Grace Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-17-06, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.7 Introductory Period: Raleigh Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The introductory period for new hires in the Raleigh office lasts 90 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-17-07, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.8 Introductory Period: Nashville Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The introductory period for new hires in the Nashville office lasts 135 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Elena Sato, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-17-08, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.9 Introductory Period: Tampa Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The introductory period for new hires in the Tampa office lasts 60 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-17-09, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 17.10 Introductory Period: Richmond Office

New hires complete an introductory period with structured check-ins with their manager. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The introductory period for new hires in the Richmond office lasts 45 days. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Sato, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-17-10, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.1 Security Desk Contacts: Charlotte Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. The Charlotte office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4766. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-18-01, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.2 Security Desk Contacts: Atlanta Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. The Atlanta office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4396. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Delgado, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-18-02, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.3 Security Desk Contacts: Denver Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. The Denver office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4803. Questions about this provision should be directed to Sofia Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-18-03, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.4 Security Desk Contacts: Austin Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. The Austin office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4692. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-18-04, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.5 Security Desk Contacts: Columbus Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. The Columbus office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4359. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-18-05, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.6 Security Desk Contacts: Phoenix Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. The Phoenix office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4470. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Delgado, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-18-06, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.7 Security Desk Contacts: Raleigh Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. The Raleigh office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4507. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Chandra, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-18-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.8 Security Desk Contacts: Nashville Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. The Nashville office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4137. Questions about this provision should be directed to Leah Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-18-08, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.9 Security Desk Contacts: Tampa Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. The Tampa office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4322. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Okafor, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-18-09, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 18.10 Security Desk Contacts: Richmond Office

Each office maintains a staffed security desk for badge issues, visitors, and emergencies. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. The Richmond office security desk can be reached at internal extension 4285. Questions about this provision should be directed to Wei Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-18-10, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.1 Emergency Assembly Points: Charlotte Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. Employees evacuating the Charlotte office gather at assembly point G-2. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Sato, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-19-01, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.2 Emergency Assembly Points: Atlanta Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. Employees evacuating the Atlanta office gather at assembly point D-2. Questions about this provision should be directed to Hannah Fontaine, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-19-02, revision 7.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.3 Emergency Assembly Points: Denver Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. Employees evacuating the Denver office gather at assembly point H-7. Questions about this provision should be directed to Derek Varga, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-19-03, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.4 Emergency Assembly Points: Austin Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. Employees evacuating the Austin office gather at assembly point B-5. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Okafor, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-19-04, revision 5.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.5 Emergency Assembly Points: Columbus Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. Employees evacuating the Columbus office gather at assembly point C-2. Questions about this provision should be directed to Omar Okafor, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-19-05, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.6 Emergency Assembly Points: Phoenix Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. Employees evacuating the Phoenix office gather at assembly point D-7. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Novak, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-19-06, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.7 Emergency Assembly Points: Raleigh Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. Employees evacuating the Raleigh office gather at assembly point F-2. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Harlow, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-19-07, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.8 Emergency Assembly Points: Nashville Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. Employees evacuating the Nashville office gather at assembly point B-7. Questions about this provision should be directed to Nina Price, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-19-08, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.9 Emergency Assembly Points: Tampa Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. Employees evacuating the Tampa office gather at assembly point G-7. Questions about this provision should be directed to Marcus Ramirez, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-19-09, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 19.10 Emergency Assembly Points: Richmond Office

During an evacuation, employees must leave by the nearest exit and report to their assembly point. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. Employees evacuating the Richmond office gather at assembly point A-2. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Delgado, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-19-10, revision 6.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.1 IT Help Desk Response Times: Charlotte Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Charlotte. For the Charlotte office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 10 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tessa Novak, People Operations partner for the Charlotte office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-20-01, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.2 IT Help Desk Response Times: Atlanta Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action.

Office-specific provisions for Atlanta. For the Atlanta office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 22 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Tomas Castillo, People Operations partner for the Atlanta office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-20-02, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.3 IT Help Desk Response Times: Denver Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Denver. For the Denver office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 8 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Caleb Chandra, People Operations partner for the Denver office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually. Policy reference LV-20-03, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.4 IT Help Desk Response Times: Austin Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Austin. For the Austin office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 4 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Ivy Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Austin office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-20-04, revision 3.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.5 IT Help Desk Response Times: Columbus Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Columbus. For the Columbus office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 2 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Whitaker, People Operations partner for the Columbus office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-20-05, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.6 IT Help Desk Response Times: Phoenix Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Office-specific provisions for Phoenix. For the Phoenix office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 18 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Sato, People Operations partner for the Phoenix office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-20-06, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.7 IT Help Desk Response Times: Raleigh Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Raleigh. For the Raleigh office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 6 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Priya Mbeki, People Operations partner for the Raleigh office.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-20-07, revision 8.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.8 IT Help Desk Response Times: Nashville Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Office-specific provisions for Nashville. For the Nashville office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 14 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Chandra, People Operations partner for the Nashville office.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement.

Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year. Policy reference LV-20-08, revision 2.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.9 IT Help Desk Response Times: Tampa Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Tampa. For the Tampa office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 24 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Jordan Lindqvist, People Operations partner for the Tampa office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

This policy applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees unless a collective agreement or local law provides otherwise. Temporary staff and contractors should consult their agency agreement. Policy reference LV-20-09, revision 4.

Lakeview Group Employee Handbook (fictional)

Section 20.10 IT Help Desk Response Times: Richmond Office

IT support requests are logged through the help desk portal and prioritized by impact. Where this policy conflicts with applicable federal, state, or local requirements, the more generous provision to the employee will apply. People Operations reviews office-level values each fiscal year.

Office-specific provisions for Richmond. For the Richmond office, standard IT tickets receive a first response within 16 business hours. Questions about this provision should be directed to Luis Novak, People Operations partner for the Richmond office.

Managers are responsible for applying this policy consistently and for documenting any approved exceptions in the HR system. Exceptions must be reviewed by People Operations at least annually.

Employees should keep records that support any claim made under this policy. Records may be requested during internal audits, and misuse of benefits may result in disciplinary action. Policy reference LV-20-10, revision 8.